

MenBuilders Commercial #2:

Hello Men...

Did you know that our once strong and vibrant country... America... is being systematically and methodically dismantled? ... And that it's all happening... On your watch?

Is that okay with you? Is it okay with you that you... and your family are slowly becoming slaves to a system that cares nothing about your well being... or your sovereignty and success as a Man?

It's not okay with me! And it's not okay with any member of our TEAM at MenBuilders.

We are inviting you to join the MenBuilders TEAM... We are An Army of hardworking and talented Men who are all committed to making you the Man that you were created to be... and to make America the land it was intended to be.

A land where free people can pursue life, liberty, happiness, and a heritage where we... as successful Men... can leave an inheritance of love, truth, culture and property for our loved ones.

A land where the Men are truly Men... Dependable, forthright, honorable and successful in their own specific Callings.

Men who are Trained... Yes Trained... how to first protect their loved ones... and then to Lead and Nurture their families and friends through the ups and downs of life. Wow! Don't you want that?

Churches, Men's Groups, Sports Teams, and College Groups/Fraternities used to be places where Men could sharpen their life skills with one another to overcome and succeed in America... Building a life of comradery and Victory with a Team of other Men who have similar core belief systems.

But Sadly, today... most Churches are not providing the hands on relational support... or the masculine maturity that a Man needs to truly fulfill his Calling. One speaker preaching from a pulpit for an hour or 2 a week may be helpful, but this does not supply a Man with what he truly needs.

Men need Daily and active relationships with friends and mentors that have the tools and permission to give honest personal feedback. A Man needs healthy comradery, Teamwork opportunities and a mature masculine place to retreat to... when life is kicking his ass.

So Where is a hungry and ambitious Man to go these days to find this kind of male Teamwork?

We now live In a world that wants to stamp out and crush your legacy... and your God-given... testosterone based... Manhood?

Most Men's groups and Sports events are immature social "Feel good gatherings" that teach males that it's acceptable to be weak, untrained, selfish and irresponsible little boys.

Enough is enough! Isn't it time that you dedicate your life to being respected and feared as a Man?

It's not okay to sit on the sidelines... and allow yourself... and your loved ones... to be oppressed, controlled and abused by the dark systems of this world.

We at MenBuilders are inviting you on the adventure of your life. This adventure may be the most difficult and fantastic endeavor of your life. Like all great feats of Man... It may be dangerous, difficult and there will be many tribulations and challenges to overcome along the way.

But know this... In the end... your life as a Man... will find the incredible fulfillment of your Calling... and the completion of your God-given purpose.

"Seek first the kingdom of God... and His righteousness...and all these things shall be added to you."

Matthew 6:33
